

Alpha & Omega

Community Center

The Alpha and Omega Community Center started in 1991 as the social action arm of Alpha and Omega Church of the Brethren, with the purpose of providing a safe place with open arms to the community.

The purpose of the Alpha & Omega Community Center is to share God's love by providing education and social services to empower the Latino community of Lancaster County to become more productive members of the community

Over the past 30 years, we have evolved, and today the Community Center offers a diversity of programs to serve the community, with a variety of community support including funding from churches, foundations and individual donors.

Our programs enrich the community in two areas: Education and Social Services.

The following are some of the services we provide:

- Counseling
- Computers for refugees
- Food bank
- Community Radio program
- English as a Second Language classes
- English classes for Muslims
- Music lessons

The Alpha & Omega Community Center address is 708 Wabank St, Lancaster, PA.

Goals of AOCC for 2022:

- To continue being a Ministry where the Latino community and particularly the immigrants or refugees receive helping to improve their lifestyle
- To build the Driveway to optimize our work of delivery and accommodation of the food that we distribute in the Food Bank
- To improve our finances in order to better serve our community
